BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

This business offers an excellent acquisition opportunity for the purchase of a successful company with a strong reputation, and a firm position in the tower installation and services market. The business services established customers and many nationally branded carriers with a growing demand in the market. This company performs turn-key tower installations, tower structural upgrades and modifications, line and antenna system installs and upgrades, tower decommissioning, and manufactures components for tower structural upgrades. The acquisition candidate can be an entrepreneurial owner/operator, and the acquisition by or integration with another industry related business should immediately deliver great value through additional branding, new market penetration, experienced staff and employees, significant and valuable real estate and equipment, established customers, and the immediate addition of increased revenues and earnings. After many successful years, the owner is making steps toward retirement. He is willing to assist with the transition of ownership and contingent upon discussions would entertain remaining with the new owner.
